

Professor Richard J. Bathurst inducted as International Honorary Member of the Japanese Geotechnical Society

At a recent meeting of the Japanese Geotechnical Society (JGS) in June 2019, Professor Bathurst of the GeoEngineering Centre at Queen's-RMC was inducted as an "International Honorary Member of the JGS". This honor was bestowed in recognition of his many technical and leadership contributions to the international geosynthetics community and for his many technical collaborations with members of the JGS over many years.
